MISS RULE TAKES READERS ON TOUR THROUGH DINING HALL EXPLAINS MODERN FEATURES EMBODIED IN NEWEST STRUCTURE ON CAMPUS

Bad Weather Delays Completion and Opening of Building
For Use

Yes, that attractive colonial design brick structure with the tile roof is the new dining hall. The entrance as you noticed is recessed with a flagstone porch. Would you like to open the double colonial doors and go through the building with me? This first room is the lobby. Notice the trim is knotted pine board panels in natural finish and the floors are terrazzo. The interior is the same in the dining room. The stairs lead to the basement; which we will explore later. The opening to the left will lead us through the serving room. This serving room is one of the newest cafeteria features which is to consist of a full unit of steam tables and modern stands for salads and desserts, if cafeteria service is used.

From this serving room, we go directly to the dining room, south of the lobby. The doors to your right open on the outer lobby, through which we just came. This will be the entrance used by the students until cafeteria service is installed. The dining room is well lighted and ventilated by the large windows on the east and by windows and double French doors on the west. I want to call your attention to the ceiling being divided into panels by the drop beams of knotted pine.

That disappearing wall panel on the east side of the dining room gives direct passage to the dish room located just south of the serving room. This will make it convenient for each student to carry his tray of dishes to the dish-washing room. This room has been treated with a caustic ceiling to absorb the sound wave of the noise made by the dishes. This is one of the most modern things in dish-washing rooms.

From the serving room we can go to the kitchen either through this private door or through the entrance with double-acting doors which are installed for efficient service. The floors of the serving room, dish-washing room and kitchen are of cement with cove base. This is the latest kind of floors for sanitation in this type of building. The lower brick walls of kitchen are painted dark brown as it shows soil less than a lighter color, however the buff upper walls and light cream ceiling are used to make the room lighted.

There is a storage room at the east end of the kitchen equipped with shelves for the storage of foods for immediate use. There is also a larger storage room in the basement which is reached by a dumb waiter. This dumb-waiter is encased so as to appear part of the chimney.

Through this south door we will go to the sunny glassed-in back porch. Here vegetables can be prepared in comfort and light the year round. On the west end of this porch is the private office of the manager of the dining hall, located so that it gives her at all times complete supervision of the kitchen.

These concrete steps will lead us to the basement, which has seven rooms, each having a direct entrance to the corridor. Down here we find a servant's room, a nicely equipped laundry, a large storage room connected with the kitchen by the dumb waiter, a separate incinerator room for taking care of considerable waste garbage, a coal and kindling room with a direct chute from the outside, and a wash-room. The heating of the building is steam by radiation through these controls which lead directly to the University plant.

DATE FOR FALL QUARTER OPENING SET A WEEK LATER

Registration for the Fall quarter for 1935 has been tentatively set for Monday, September 23. This will be a week later than the beginning of the Fall quarter last year. This change is important in that it will cause the Fall quarter to end at the beginning of the Christmas holidays and the Winter quarter to begin at the first of the year. It is believed that this change will be much more satisfactory to both the students and the faculty than the past arrangement of having the Winter quarter begin a week or ten days before the beginning of the holidays.

Student Writes To Earn Expenses Here

Began To Write in High School and Earns Expense Money Here
With His Pen

Did you know that one of the students of U. T. Junior College is paying his way through college with his pen? Of course you know that many students push brooms, milk cows, work in offices and laboratories and do dozens of other things to earn a part of the expense of their college education. But to write and be paid for it, is a new way of earning one's way through the Junior College.

Charles James Martin is undoubtedly one of the first students to use this method of earning some of the cash needed even at this low cost college. Martin began writing four or five years ago while he was in high school. Many of the articles he read in boys' magazines and the young people's papers published by various churches seemed to him no better than he himself might write. Why should he not try his hand at it, he asked himself. Reasoning thus to himself he sought a subject for his first plunge into the icy and treacherous waters of authorship. In the Martin attic were some copies of a long since defunct weekly newspaper, Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper, published in New York about sixty-five or seventy years ago. Here was his story. He would tell other young people about these old papers over which he had pored with amusement many an hour. His article completed he forwarded it to The Haversack, a boys' magazine published by the Methodist Publishing House. When he received his check for one dollar which was the magnificent sum he got for his first piece, Martin was encouraged to further effort. He next wrote an article on Davy Crockett which was also accepted by the same publication. And then Andrew Johnson, which brought him a check for eight dollars.

All in all, this young bit writer has contributed over fifty articles which have been accepted. And Martin will freely and modestly admit that he is well acquainted with rejection slips, even better than he is with those sweet words "Enclosed find check". . . The average sum he receives for his articles is one-half a cent a word, Martin says. Science, biography, nature lore, and humorous incidents have all at one time or another engaged his pen. Young people's magazines and boys' papers have been the chief outlet for his journalistic ambitions.

Martin is taking the Liberal Arts course and hopes to get into newspaper work when he completes his college work. He is a member of the Volette staff of the Junior College, to which he came from Kenton High School.

Sorosis Entertain With Hop in H. E. Rooms

The Sorosis Club entertained members and their dates with a hop in the Home Economics building on Saturday night, January 19, 1935.

The rooms of the building were lighted with softly colored light. Punch was served throughout the evening. Music was furnished by Miss Elizabeth Henry of Dickson, Tenn. Bridge was played by those who did not wish to "trip the light fantastic."

Members and their dates attending were: Mary Frances Lipscomb, "Red" Robbins; Martha Ellis, Ben Johnston; Lucille Biggs, Clifton Jenkins; Cyril Oliver, Snooks Looney; Helen Lane, Billy Cowan; Ann Fitts, Jimmy Dent; Jessie Barnes, Kenneth Shellabarger; Jean Heidelberg, William Sadler; Peggy Lindsey, Aaron Reed; Jane Mayo, Rob Harrison; June Bushart, James Jonakin; Opal Garner, J. C. King; also present were: Virgil Luck, Frank Goff, Joe Pritchard, Chas. Williams, Billy Taylor, Ben Taylor, James Butler, Kermit Trim, J. C. Stewart, Markey Luttrell. Chaperones were: Florence Elliott, Ray DeMoss; Elisabeth Edwards, Gene Stanford; Miss McFee, Mr. Gatlin.

Junior Vols Face Three in Three Days

Orangemen Will Clash With Lambuth
Bethel and Austin Peay Wed.,
Thurs., and Friday

This week the Junior Vol basketball team will face its hardest string of games yet to be played, when it clashes with the Lambuth, Bethel, and Austin Peay teams on three successive night, January 31, February 1 and 2, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. All of these opponents will offer stiff opposition.

On Wednesday the Junior Vols will invade Lambuth's home gym in an effort to obtain revenge for the defeat handed them by the Eagles in their game here on January 17. The Lambuth squad will certainly not look kindly on the attempt to spoil the record they have piled up.

On Thursday night the Junior Vols will repay Bethel's visit. The Corporals, still smarting from their recent defeat, threaten to exact vengeance.

On Friday night the Austin Peay Teachers will give battle to the Junior Vols in the Junior College gym. The Teachers are also numbered among those who have suffered defeat at the hands of the Orangemen.

A special feature of Friday's home game will be the intramural battle between the Sophomore and Freshman teams, which will serve as a preliminary to the varsity struggle.

Spring Football Practice Will Begin in March

Coach Derryberry has announced that spring football practice will begin during the last two weeks of the winter quarter if the weather permits. Plans are being made to put the squad through intensive drills in an effort to prepare it for the 1935 football season.

An important duty during the spring practice will be the selection of a captain for the 1935 team. The captain will be elected by the squad.

During practice the squad will be divided into two teams, the Black and the Orange. These teams will meet in several games and the rivalry is expected to be intense.

With the splendid material he has and the outstanding players from Middle and West Tennessee high schools expected to attend the Junior College next season, many expect Coach Derryberry to produce another team of championship calibre in 1935.

SUPT. WEBB IS ASSEMBLY SPEAKER FOR TUESDAY

Superintendent Webb of the Union City Schools, will be the Assembly speaker tomorrow at 1 o'clock. Superintendent Webb will feel at home here, there being eight or ten of his former students on hand to greet him.

The subject of Mr. Webb's talk could not be learned.

The Sophomore class will have charge of Assembly on Thursday.

Claridge Orchestra To Play for President's Ball

Floor Acts and Miss Marge Hudson
Additional Attractions Offered
On Friday Night at Gym

Carl "Deacon" Moore and his Hotel Claridge Orchestra, featuring Miss Marge Hudson as soloist, will be brought to Martin on Friday night, February 1, by the Junior Chamber of Commerce for the President's Ball for crippled children. The Junior Chamber of Commerce committee decided to hold their party on the later date so as to get this well-known orchestra and also to permit many people in other towns to attend this great attraction. The young business organization has secured the gymnasium of the local College, which will provide ample space for the large number expected to attend.

Not satisfied with bringing one of the best orchestras of this section here, the J.C.'s also assure the public that they will bring along as an added attraction a floor show consisting of the best acts used in the Memphis Cotton Carnival. This is the first project undertaken by the new organization and they are sparing no pains to make it one long to be remembered.

Proceeds above expenses go to the National Committee for Infantile Paralysis Relief for treatment of children crippled by infantile paralysis. Advance ticket sales at $1.00 per couple will go off sale tomorrow. Admissions at the door will be $1.50 for couples and twenty-five cents for spectators.

Gibson Entries Win in Tenn. Teacher Contest

Helen Ruth Bass, Gibson, Takes First in Elementary School, Mary Pearl Carrier, Dyer, in High Schools

Helen Ruth Bass, eighth grade student in the Gibson Elementary School, and Mary Pearl Carrier, Sophomore in Dyer High, won first places in the Eighth District speaking contest held at the College on Friday, January 25.

The contest is sponsored by the Tennessee Teachers' Association and speeches are based on the findings of the Tennessee Educational Commission. Winners of the district contests will compete for first places in West Tennessee, either at Jackson or Memphis. Divisional winners, one from the elementary schools and one from the high schools, will deliver their speeches before the Legislature in Nashville with the members of the Supreme Court as judges of the State champion.

Miss Helen Ruth Bass is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Bass of Gibson, and the niece of W. A. Bass, secretary of the Tennessee Teachers' Association. Miss Carrier is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Carrier of Dyer.

Superintendent Custer Taylor of Milan City Schools and chairman of the Eighth District of Teachers' Association, presided at the contest. Judges were Professors Everett Derryberry, Ray DeMoss and C. E. Gatlin.

School officials accompanying the contestants were: Principal Geo. E. Eckstein of Gibson, Supt. M. D. Barron of Dyer, and Miss Mary Helen Freeman, English and Expression teacher of Dyer High School.

Junior Vols Give Up Two to Foes

Lose to T. M. I. 39 to 31 and To Freed-Hardeman, Valley Champs,
By Score of 42-17

The University of Tennessee Junior Vols suffered two defeats during their recent road trip on January 25 and 26. On Friday night, the local quintet lost a hard fought battle to the Tupelo Military Institute by the score of 39 to 31. The last half of the game was marked by the brilliant playing of the Tennessee Juniors, but the Vols were unable to overcome the early lead piled up by T. M. I. in the first few minutes of the game.

The Junior Vols went to Henderson on Friday night for a tilt with Freed-Hardeman College. The Freed-Hardeman quintet outclassed the Vols by the crushing score of 42-17. The Tennessee Juniors fought stubbornly against the more experienced and mature basketkeers, but were unable to conquer the fighting Mustangs of Henderson.

The lineups for the teams were as follows:

U. T. (31)	T. M. I. (39)
Burdette, 9	F. Baptist, 12
Miles, 6	F. Inman, 14
Keiser, 6	C. Williams, 4
Long, 7	G. Robinson, 2
Vaughn, 1	G. Morgan, 6
Substitutions: U.T.—Shankle (2), Follis, Lee, Sadler; T. M. I.—DePoyster (1), McNeal, Pope.
U. T. (17)	Freed-Hardeman (42)
Long, 2	F. Clayton, 7
Shankle, 3	F. Weeks, 5
Keiser, 3	G. Mayfield, 9
Vaughn, 1	G. Snodgrass, 12
Miles, 2	G. Farrell, 7
Substitutions: U.T.—Burdette (3), Lee (1), Follis (2); Freed-Hardeman— Hamilton (2), Hayes, Graham, Melton, Dugger, Hoggett.

Woodpecker Attempt- ing To Enter College

For some time now a woodpecker has been hammering on the facade of the Administration building in an apparently determined effort to enter at least the chief building of the Junior College. To date the College officials have neglected to announce a decision on the question of accepting, or rejecting the woodpecker as a student. There is a possibility, remote perhaps, that the office force is laboring under the mistaken impression that those hammering sounds are produced by the chattering teeth of a cold-natured Freshman.

It has been noted that the cold reception accorded him has not deterred the woodpecker from his determination to enter college. When last observed he had transferred his activities to the south side of the building.

The woodpecker will probably take his place with the sparrow-hawk that flits back and forth during the summer sessions from the tops of the columns of the Administration building to the nearby trees. Less misgivings should be expressed concerning the I. Q. of a bird who spends all his time flitting back and forth from column to tree—we would suggest that you consider carefully some of the human actions he observes about the campus.

Literary League Meet To Be Held Here

Seven Counties Will Be Represented At Contests Here In April

The contests for District Two of the Tennessee Interscholastic Literary League will be held in the Junior College auditorium in April. Mr. Everett Derryberry, who has charge of the meeting, states that while no definite date for the meet has been set, it will probably be held the first week in April.

The meet will consist of six contests—debating, extemporaneous public speaking, original oratory, declamation, humorous reading, and dramatic reading. Participants must be pupils in the schools of either Lake, Obion, Weakley, Gibson, Henry, Carroll, or Benton counties.

Winners of the district contest will be eligible to compete in the State contest to be held at Knoxville in May. Further information may be from Mr. Derryberry upon request.

WHAT! NO DRAMATIC CLUB THIS YEAR!

Do we or don't we have a dramatic club at the Junior College this year? This question is causing quite a bit of discussion around the campus these days. If the question were left to the student body, the answer would be an emphatic "We do!"

We do want a dramatic club. We think the College needs one. Why should the Mask and Wig Club of last year and previous years be left out of the College activities this year when the 1934-35 enrollment has been, by far, the largest in the history of the school? With more talent, more enthusiasm, more pep, more plays could be given than ever before.

We want the Mask and Wig Club again this year.

May we have it, Professors Derryberry, Phillips, and Executive Officer Meek?

Reduced to a Formula

A chemist (a man) has at last been able to analyze women, and here it is: Symbol, WO, a member of the human family. Occurrence—can be found wherever man exists. Physical properties—all colors and sizes. Always appears in disguised conditions—surface of face seldom unprotected by coating of paint or film of powder. Boils at nothing and may freeze at any moment. Melts when properly treated. Very bitter if not used correctly. Chemical properties—extremely active. Possesses great affinity for gold, silver, platinum, and precious stones of all kinds. Violent reaction when left alone by man. Ability to absorb all sorts of expensive foods. Turns green when placed next to a better-appearing sample. Ages very rapidly. Fresh variety has great magnetic attraction. Highly explosive and likely to be dangerous in inexperienced hands.—The Daily Illini.

Want Ads!

Wanted—A scarf to finish covering Weber Wood's mug while the cold wave prevails.

Wanted—A sleigh on which a certain boy may carry more coca-colas to Miss Caldwell at her office. We wonder why he carried the one last week; could zoology have had anything to do with it?

Wanted—A detective to solve the following mysteries:

1st Mystery—Why a bottle of water was placed in Doris Bolerjack's and Mary Frances Davis' bed last Sunday night while they were occupied elsewhere, and what could have been the purpose in tying the cork to the foot of the bed.

2nd Mystery—The detective now faces a difficult situation with very little substantial evidence against suspected persons. The question to be answered in this situation is, "Who shot the fireracker in the living room of the girls' dormitory last Sunday night?" Note: Detective please report to Virgil Luce and Billy Cowan.

Wanted—An instructor in table etiquette. All applicants please see Miss Rule.

Wanted—A position as chief cook and dishwasher in up-to-date home. Call or see Marion Pearson. For information as to credentials please see Miss Neta McFee, instructor in Foods, U. T. Junior College, Martin, Tenn.

Wanted—All firecrackers available. —"The Firecracker Pals" of Girls' Dormitory.

All About 'Em!

I guess most of you remember the resolutions that some of our campus sheiks and flappers permitted us to publish in our last issue—well, we just thought that this time you might be interested in seeing how they are turning out. How about it?

It looks like Miss Bolerjack is in a fair way to realize her resolution (or was it her ambition). Even Looney dreams about the happy event!

Hey—Wait a minute! Someone just stuck this under the door. It reads: "Ask Harold, Mosely if a certain curly headed brunette in the girls' dormitory can ask embarrassing questions."

Well, I asked him and he said: "You'd like to know, wouldn't you." Quite an enlightening answer, isn't it?

And while you are thinking of embarrassing situations, you might ask Cowan if fire crackers are ever prone to be rather disturbing and maybe even a little bit embarrassing!

Jessie Barnes says its rather embarrassing to have everyone asking if you are married! I don't much blame her at that—Shelley, you don't seem to let the report bother you, however.

Ye' know, I've been thinking—actually! Did any of you realize that we had members of the nobility with us at the Sorosis dance? Well, someone told me the "King" and his queen were there!

Another thought just came to my mind! You remember about Josey resolving to fall in love—well, evidently she did; at any rate she went to Jackson and wouldn't come home—not even when Miss McFee said too. There must have been some attraction, don't you think?

I asked someone a day or two ago whether or not Harold Waggener was keeping his resolution in regard to leaving the women alone. Before they had time to answer, Dorothy Barton said very emphatically that he was not.

But someone else told me a nice juicy bit of scandal. Come around some time and I'll tell you all about it. In the meantime, you might ask "Crip" if it pays to keep the shades pulled down.

Oh yes—and by the way! Cile, did Miss Elliott ask you if you were spoiled?

Well, I've told you about all I know for this time. . . . If you need a clearer explanation why "come up and see me sometime"—apologies to Mae West.

Intramural Contests Promise Excitement

Winners of the Girls' Game to Meet
Bethel College Girls Here
February 12th

The intramural competition between the Freshman and Sophomore classes will be renewed this week, when both girls' and boys' basketball teams meet to decide the class champions. The game between the Freshman and Sophomore boys will be played as a preliminary to the Austin Peay game Friday night, February 2. The girls' teams will clash February 5 as a preliminary to the Tupelo Military Institute game.

As an inducement to extra effort it has been announced that the winning girls' team will meet the Bethel girls as a preliminary to the Bethel game here Tuesday, February 12. The winning boys' team will play the varsity E team. Although no definite date for this game has been set, Coach Grantham states that it will probably be held Saturday, February 9, as a preliminary to the David-Lipscomb game.

Both intramural games promise to provide plenty of action. Both classes have been hard at work since the Christmas holidays whipping teams into shape. There has been no scarcity of material on either side.

Added interest has been given to the girls' contest by the fact that the Freshman and Sophomore classes have been divided into several teams. These teams meet in a series of elimination contests this week, the winning teams being the ones to represent their classes.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB SPONSORS COPPER TEA

On Thursday afternoon from four to five o'clock in the living room of the Home Economics building, the Home Ec Club entertained with a copper tea. A large number of students and faculty members were present.

The guests were graciously received by Miss Ruby Helen Lane. Miss Neta McFee, with the assistance of the Home Ec Club members, presided at the tea table. The guests were served tea, coconut macaroons, wafers and nuts.

An unusual feature of the entertainment was the admission price, which was ten cents for the first five feet in height and one cent for each extra inch over five feet.

Miss Cecile Williams spent the past week end at her home in Milan.

Campus Sparks

We hear that the affair between the business manager and the editor concerns more than a mutual interest in the Volette.

Lou, you should improve your technique. We are surprised to hear that you let a date doze off recently.

Why has Helen Mae's been such a popular meeting place for a small group lately?

Cile loves Jimmy; but Jimmy who?

Luck is seen more often than usual at the girls' dorm now. Could Doris be the current attraction?

Romeos and Juliets, beware of "parking" on the campus. We hear from a very reliable source that some of the profs are around most of the time!

Elizabeth and Christine have been patronizing the Park View lately. Could Jimmie and P. B. know the answer to this?

Cile, what is a trash basket used for besides trash?

Mary, please remove all make-up before your next date; we hear that "Jim" doesn't like lipstick.

What was the exact purpose of Josie's long stay in Jackson? We wonder!

Our "little Nelle" is in love at last. What say, Nelle?

Why wasn't Lem at the Sorosis dance?

We hear that DeMoss is getting a new car. Three cheers, everybody; it's time!

Why has Jane been so blue lately?

Add nicknames:
Helen Mae Wells, Tube D.; Robt. Kelley Roney, Plate H! !

ALUMNI

(The Volette intends to present in each issue a column devoted entirely to the activities and accomplishments of our alumni and former students. We are dependent to a large extent upon outside sources in gathering this information. If you have the "low-down" on any of our alumni, please send it in.)

1928—Marvin "Nip" McKnight, captain of the Mississippi Valley Conference championship team of 1928, is now postmaster at Bemis, Tenn.

Rufus Thompson, forward on the championship team, has been the coach of the Rutherford High School for the last five years. All of the basketball teams he has turned out have been outstanding.

Clyde Shankle, Trenton, is a teacher in the Rutherford High School.

1930—Jack Lemonds is the collector for the International Harvester Company for Mississippi and Louisiana.

M. L. Alphin, Trimble, is the assistant county agent of Lake County. Sam Moffat, Obion, is teaching in the Obion High School.

Leonard Willie Stigler, Frederick, Okla., is attending the Louisville Theological Seminary at Louisville, Ky.

Robert Whitfield, Elkton, is a Vocational Agriculture teacher at Eva, Tenn.

1931—Clifton Pritchett, Finley, is coaching and teaching in the Munford High School.

Jasper P. Burnett, Pleasant Hill, is teaching high school vocational work. Mrs. Ed Crane, nee Effie Gordon Barton, of Rutherford, Tenn., is assisting her husband in the supervision of the large territory in which he represents a cereal company. Their headquarters and home are at Charleston, West Virginia.

1932—John Ellington, Hornbeak, is attending Louisiana State University.

Clinic on Basketball Draws Large Number

Extreme Weather Fails To Keep Coaches From Hearing This Famous Player

Chuck Taylor, ace performer on the hardwood and authority on the great indoor sport, held a public clinic for coaches and players in the U. T. Junior gym on Wednesday. In spite of slippery roads and the extreme cold, seventeen coaches and one hundred and fifteen players of adjoining towns showed their interest in the clinic by attending. About one hundred and fifty College students also sat in on the demonstration of a style of game as modern and up-to-the-minute as streamlined trains and turret top automobiles. Referring to the pivot, dribble and faking as antiquies he declared that basketball is a game of passing, catching and scoring. Clinician Taylor favors a direct style of game with one purpose and one alone and that to get goals.

Taylor demonstrated several screen and block plays, using the U. T. Junior Volmen for players. After the lecture or clinic, he invited all coaches to come to him with their problems and questions.

He stated he would arrange to be here in the evening next year so that a still greater number could attend.

Miss Mary Catherine Drewry was the week end guest of Miss Ruth Day the past week.

Derryberry Mentioned As Britton Assistant

Is Not Interested in Full Time Coaching, However

Professor Everett Derryberry, English head and coach of U. T. Junior football, will not go to the University of Tennessee as one of Major Britton's assistants, it has been learned.

Professor Derryberry was one of those mentioned for the place. When asked about the offer he commented: "I am interested primarily in teaching. This is a full time coaching job."

The inference drawn from this statement which Mr. Derryberry would not elaborate is that he has eliminated himself from those being considered.

"WHO'S WHO" IN THE NEW DINING HALL CONSTRUCTION

The new Dining Hall will probably be the best equipped and most modern college dining hall of its size in the South.

Careful planning by the architects; a fine quality of materials furnished by the advertisers on each side of this column; and good workmanship by the general contractor, J. B. Regen, J. M. and R. H. Gowans, and others have been used throughout the construction.

The roof, furnished by Geo. L. Phillips of Nashville, will be covered with Yorkshire tile to harmonize with other roofs on the campus. The design of this building follows the Georgian Colonial style of architecture.

The lobby and dining hall are to have terrazzo floors with a smooth polished surface. The walls of these two rooms will be covered with pine in natural finish and the ceilings will be beamed ceilings with plaster surface. All of this lumber was furnished by Brundige-Moore Lumber Company, Martin, Tennessee.

The Dining Hall will have a wonderful heating system which was installed by J. M. and R. H. Gowans, Nashville, Tennessee. Included in this heating system will be a spacious fireplace at one end of the dining room. This hall will seat approximately two hundred people at one time and can be used for social gatherings as well as for dining purposes.

The kitchen will be wired for electric cooking and mechanical equipment. The McNish-Frye Company furnished all the electric supplies. Geo. L. Phillips & Company and Bass Company will furnish material to install a ventilation system which will exhaust the air from the kitchen by means of an electric driven fan, changing the air in this room every two minutes. J. M. and R. H. Gowans will do all plumbing.

The large basement under the kitchen will have storage space, a laundry and ample wash rooms for students and workers. It will be well lighted by very substantial basement windows with steel sashes furnished by G. W. Ruth and Company, Nashville, Tennessee.

"GIFTS THAT LAST"

—so far as we know tobacco was first used about 400 years ago

—throughout the years what one thing has given so much pleasure..so much satisfaction

Early Colonial planters shipped hundreds of pounds of tobacco to England in return for goods and supplies.

*They came looking for gold
... but they found tobacco*

...and tobacco has been like gold ever since!

The tobacco raised in Virginia and exchanged for goods helped the struggling colonists to get a foothold when they came to America.

Later on, it was tobacco that helped to clothe and feed Washington's brave army at Valley Forge.

Today it is tobacco that helps—more than any other commodity raised in this country—to pay the expense of running our Government.

In the fiscal year 1933-34 the Federal Government collected $425,000,000 from the tax on tobacco. Most of this came from cigarettes—six cents tax on every package of twenty.

Yes, the cigarette helps a lot—and it certainly gives men and women a lot of pleasure.

Smokers have several reasons for liking Chesterfields. For one thing, Chesterfields are milder. For another thing, they taste better. They Satisfy.

"Who's Who" in the New Dining Hall Construction

One of the most attractive features of the building is the beautiful panel doors and windows furnished by Bass and Company, Hopkinsville, Kentucky.

C. M. Hunt Company, Nashville, Tennessee, agents of the strong Insurance Company of North America, is taking the risk on Bond Insurance.
We feel that there is little risk to run, nevertheless it is good business to take out insurance with a strong, reliable insurance company.

B. E. Byars, Martin, Tennessee, has taken many pictures of the dining hall during its construction. They are exceptionally good pictures and may be had at a reasonable price.
For the past quarter of a century he has made thousands of excellent pictures for people of Tennessee. The Byars Studio makes enlargements, frames to order, tinting, kodak finishing and all kinds of photography work.

Brundige-Moore is one of the largest lumber companies in this section of West Tennessee. The firm has furnished more material than any of the other material furnishers in the construction.

J. B. Regen, general contractor, Nashville, Tennessee, is constructing an attractive building for Mr. Hill in Nashville at present. The general contractor has been in construction work for 18 or 20 years. He has constructed a number of beautiful high school buildings, residences, stadiums, store buildings and other buildings.

Turn to page one for a more detailed description of the new dining hall.

THE VOLETTE WILL BE SENT TO HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS

This issue of The Vquette, and probably others, will be sent to a large number of high school seniors widely scattered over Tennessee and the surrounding territory. We had planned to run eight pages in this number, but due to the extremely cold weather which has delayed us we are running only four.

We hope that high school students will enjoy reading The Vquette. We invite you to visit the University of Tennessee Junior College at your first convenience and make plans to enroll at the beginning of the 1935-1936 collegiate year.

FOOTBALL BOYS AWARDED SWEATERS

After having worn many times for the athletic sweaters, Mr. Derryberry was able to award them on Thursday night, January 24.

Some of the boys chose loose knit, while others ordered close knit. Nevertheless, the sweaters are very attractive in orange, forming a beautiful background for the large chenille "T".

The team members are to be congratulated on their natty appearance in these attractive new sweaters.

DR. SCHMIDT ADDRESSES STUDENTS' CHRISTIAN ASS'N.

Dr. Schmidt delivered a very interesting and inspiring talk to the unusually attentive members of the Students' Christian Association at the last regular meeting, January 16.

Others on the program were Josephine Parks, Marie Hollaman.

New officials elected at the last meeting presided for the first time.

MR. MECK LEAVES FOR KNOXVILLE TODAY

Mr. Paul Meek, Executive Officer of the Junior College, will leave Martin today for an official trip to the University of Tennessee at Knoxville.
Among the subjects which Mr. Meek will discuss at Knoxville are the Junior College curricula for next year and the 1935-1936 catalog which will soon go to press.

Mr. Meek plans to return to Martin later in the week.

AUSTIN PEAY, BETHEL SEEK DEBATES WITH U. T. J. C.

The Junior College Debating Society has received requests for debates from the debating clubs of Austin Peay Normal and Bethel College. The proposed topic for debate is the Pi Kappa Delta question: Resolved:
That the Nations Should Agree to Prevent the International Shipment of Arms and Munitions.

At present it appears probable that both requests will be declined since the Junior College debating society has not been functioning for several months. Professor Phillips, who has sponsored the debating club, says that lack of funds to finance the purchase of books and materials and to defray the expense of trips to other colleges has made intercollegiate debating highly improbable during the current season.

OSHKEE-WOW-WOW; OSCAR KELLEY RONEY, III, HAS THE BAWL

On Sunday morning, January 20, a new candidate for the Junior Vol football squad appeared at Newbern.
His halfback dad, Robert Kelley, II, vouches for his weight of ten and a half pounds.

While proud papa Kelley sheepishly admits that this young footballer has donned bird's-eye instead of moleskin, he proudly asserts that it won't be long before he will be bawling out signals instead of—well, just bawling.

The Vquette extends congratulations to Mrs. Roney, the former studious Edris Craddock, and joins with his ambitious dad in the hope that Robert Kelley, III, will some day wear the Orange and White.

CO-OP DINING HALL HAS NEW COMMITTEE

In a meeting on Friday, January 18, the students boarding at the dining hall elected a new committee to govern the co-operative dining hall.
The new committee consists of William Cowan, chairman; Doris Bolerjack, Joe White Pritchard, Anna Ozier, and Ruby Hellen Lane. Doris Bolerjack was elected to represent the students boarding at the dining hall who are not members of the co-operative association.

The new committee will serve the rest of the school year. If a vacancy should occur in the committee membership, a new member will be elected in a special election.

Miss Edna Parks has been confined to her bed the past week with a slight attack of flu.

Miss Estelle Bailey was at her home in Huron from Saturday, January 19, to Friday, January 25.
